Install Pi Kappa Delta Here Today

Ceremonies Inaugurating Chapter of Forensic Fraternity Are Arranged.

The local chapter Missouri Kappa, of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary and professional forensic fraternity, will be installed this evening at 5:30 o'clock under the direction of Orville C. Miller, chairman of the Speech Department of the College.

Mr. Miller will be assisted in the installation service by E. W. Mounce, of the College faculty, and H. Jerome Smith, student at the College, both of whom are members of Pi Kappa Delta. Honorary membership has been extended to Dr. Uel W. Lamkin, president of the College, in recognition of his constant and enthusiastic support of all forms of forensic endeavors on this campus and on account of his personal achievements locally, nationally and internationally as a speaker.

Charter members of the local chapter of the fraternity who will be initiated tonight are: E. W. Mounce and Orville C. Miller of the College faculty; Miss Cleola Dawson, of the faculty of the Maryville high school; Wilbur Pettigrew, teacher in the Shenandoah, Ia., high school; Dale Misseldine, law student at Iowa University; Jerome Smith, Marvin Shamberger and Glenn Duncan, students at the College. Lowell Galt and Wilbur Heekin, newly elected members, students at the College, will also be initiated at the twilight installation service this evening.

After the installation and initiation service the group will meet at seven o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Miller for the first annual banquet of the local chapter of the fraternity. Special guests at the banquet will be Mrs. Lamkin and Mrs. Mounce.

Elementary Training School Presents a One-Act Play

A book play in one act, "The Prickly Prince," by Marjorie Barrows, was presented by Miss Mary Keith's pupils of the Elementary Training School of the College, in Social Hall, last Friday afternoon.

This interesting little play which was carefully and faultlessly given dramatically presented the story of a spoiled little prince who became tired of his many toys and luxuries but who finally became interested in life, when he became interested in reading good little books.

Through the efforts of the private wizard with her wand and corps of assistants, leading characters in interesting books and stories actually appeared on the stage in costume and finally succeeding in enticing the Prickly Prince away to the joys found in the land of good reading.

Donald Johnson, a major in music in the College, played the piano accompaniments.

The cast included: King Curly Q. Laures Noble; Queen Tightly, Mary Bess Myers; Petty John, The Prickly Prince, Roy Kinnaird, Jr.; Miss Nagg, the private Wizardess, Emma Ruth Kendall; Ned, Bill Phares; and Nellie, Muriel Sutton.

The book characters were: Robin Hood, Harrison Jutz; Hans Brinker, Billie Martin; Jo March, Dorothy Lee Montgomery; Peter Pan, Alice Newton; Cinderella, Betty Chaves; Rebecca, Sarah Thompson; Dr. Doolittle, Derle Schafstall; King Arthur, Charles Belows; and Tom Sawyer, J. H. Spencer.

VERSES

Reunion

I hear a voice; in the distance
A wraith-like form I view,
I cup my hand to listen—
My eyes are straining too.
But the voice grows faint as a whisper
And dies away in the night,
While the figure dims, as ever,
And fades in the moon's white light.
But the waves and the beach are left me,
And the wind with its soft caress—
I discover a path on the water
Where Dian tread, no less.
And the wind bears a gentle whisper,
Breathed by one sprightly fair—
I dip my hand in the ocean;
Soft words I lift to the air.
Then it seems that our spirits mingle,
As the sands of the beach and the tides
Unite in a tender greeting,
And peace in my heart abides.
—Kermit Culver.

Truth Is Gone

Out of the dusky silence
Down the river of Death,
There floats a figure swiftly;
How sweet its dying breath.
And Truth went floating onward
Down to the sea unknown;
It is leaving this world of pain
For a fairer, better home.
—Wallace Culver.

Bearcat Tracksters Win Seven Firsts in Springfield Meet

A small but ambitious Bearcat track team was defeated by the Springfield Bears 52 to 84 in a meet at Springfield last Thursday. Though the score was quite convincing, the Maryville team held its own, winning seven firsts out of sixteen events, tying for another. Springfield's margin of victory came from her ability to cop seconds and thirds.

A soft field was responsible for slow times in the track events. St. John of Maryville gave a remarkable performance by winning firsts in both low and high hurdles, and third in the quarter mile, thus taking individual high scoring honors. Stubbs of Maryville, and Killion of Springfield tied for second high scores. Stubbs won both the 100 yard and 22 yard dashes, and Killion took firsts in both the half-mile and the mile.

Other firsts won by Bearcats were: Broad jump won by Stalcup. Shotput won by Biggestaff. Discus won by Rice. Slean tied for first in the pole vault. In the other events, Mutt ran a close second in the mile race, Smith was forced to take third in a close decision in the two-mile race, and Burns won third in the high jump.

Next Friday afternoon the Bearcats, who are always powerful on the home field, will meet the strong track team from Peru, Nebraska, here. The Peru team recently defeated Creighton University in a dual meet.

Are We Thinkers?

By Wallace Culver

There is no wonder that the Geneva Disarmament Conference is floundering when we read the startling facts disclosed by the New Statesman, an English journal.

It reveals the fact that the largest number of stockholders in British munition firms are clergymen. Fortunes are being made in Europe and America out of arming Japan and China. According to this British journal, "the Skoda factories in Czechoslovakia sent 700 boxes of munitions via Hamburg to Japan and on the following day a Norwegian steamer took 4000 boxes of explosives from Germany on its way to Japan. . . the German chemical industry has sent huge quantities of acid to Japan for making explosives. . . 18,000 bombs and 2300 gas bombs have been shipped to Japan from the Skoda works in Czechoslovakia.

"In France the Schneider works at Creusot have received a contract for 20 heavy tanks and the French automobile factory at Dijon is making 4000 heavy airplane bombs for Japan. In Poland the Japanese have given contracts amounting to more than $3,000,000. From the United States munitions worth $180,000,000 have been shipped to Japan. During December and January munitions valued at $100,000 were sold to Japan from England."

In our present capitalist society such things are only to be expected. Men will exploit and even kill their more unfortunate fellowmen in order to make a profit. It is time that the people wake up and commence thinking.

E. A. "Lefty" Davis, football coach and Director of Athletics at the College, will study this summer at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, under the famous coach, Howard Jones. The University of Southern California Trojan football team was recognized last fall as national champions.

Graduating Class Will Present Play

College High School Seniors Will Appear in 'The Touchdown' Thursday.

"The Touchdown," a four-act college comedy, will be presented Thursday evening, by the members of the graduating class of College High, in the College Auditorium.

The play is the story of life at Modell, a Pennsylvania co-educational college. It deals with the vicissitudes and final triumph of the Modell football eleven, and the humorous and dramatic incidents connected therewith.

The part of Grant Hayden, expert football player and clever amateur sculptor, a junior at Modell, will be played by Leland Thornhill. His younger brother, Robert Hayden, is to be played by Eldon Williams.

The part of Wolfe, a dissipated football player and the villain of the story, will be enacted by George Hartman. Clarke, White, the football coach, is to be Raymond Deardorff.

Plays Comedy Role. Forrest Conrad will play the comedy role of Julius-Skinner, smiling and sentimental. Summer, the bald professor, is to be none other than Ambrose Jennings.

Watana Faulkner, the heroine of the story, a girl student and football enthusiast, will be played by Leona Mae Shell.

The part of Rema Maynard, refined, pretty and daintily coquettish, will be taken by Mildred Hollensbe, Margery, a Modell junior who lispes and loves equally well is to be Evelyn Rosenquist. The Sylvester twins, Hollie and Evelyn, whom Julius insists "it would require a pair of forceps to separate" are to be LaRue Robey and Nellie Mazingo. And we must not forget Hazel Gates who will play the role of the typical dean's assistant, secretly in love with professor Summer, Miss Parmelee.

Others in the cast are Edwin Marshall, Elmer Salee, Lucille Farrar, John Owens, Davis Munsey, Velma Davidson, Cleola Carr, Neola Carr, Ella Jane Horn, Mary Gregory, and Catherine Moore.

Directed by Jerome Smith. Lucille Farrar has been appointed student director for the play and Ambrose Jennings is serving as stage manager.

The play is being directed by Jerome Smith, under the supervision of the Speech Department of the College.

Students will be admitted on the presentation of their minor activity coupons.

Regents Accept Offer of College Faculty Members

The Board of Regents of the College at a meeting in St. Joseph last Friday afternoon, accepted the offer of the members of the College faculty to give such portions of their services as may be necessary to help balance the budget. The faculty members will receive a ten per cent cut in salary this month and next. In June the salaries will be adjusted for the next year when new contracts are issued.

The Board of Regents also accepted President Lamkin's offer to take a cut in salary of $500 next year, in addition to his proportionate share of general salary reductions. The Board also allowed an increase of fifty in the enrollment of the College high school, and adopted a new wage scale for employees other than faculty members. Leaves of absence for the summer were authorized for E. L. Kelley, of the commerce department; Miss Hettie M. Anthony, head of the home economics department; E. A. Davis, coach; A. H. Cooper, director of extension; and Carl Schowengerdt, of the agricultural department.

The next meeting of the board will be held at Maryville on May 26, when Governor Caulfield will deliver the commencement address to the College graduating class.

Married

Miss Annamae Adams, a member of the junior class and Elliott Kitt, a senior student at the College, were recently married. These students are well known in the College, Mrs. Kitt being a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Alpha Sigma Alpha, the Green and White Peppers, and the College Library Staff. Mr. Kitt, whose home is at Chillicothe, is a member of the local chapter, Theta, of the national social fraternity, Sigma Tau Gamma. Mrs. Kitt's home is at Blokkton, Iowa.

Miss Hunter's Debaters Win

Hickory Stick and Schoolmasters Meet

Joint Session of Educators Organizations Is Held in Chillicothe.

A joint dinner meeting of the Schoolmasters' Club of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College District, and the Knights of the Hickory Stick organization of the Northwest Missouri District, was held at Chillicothe, last Saturday evening.

E. R. Adams, superintendent of the Chillicothe schools, had charge of the program, which consisted chiefly of instrumental numbers by the high school orchestra, vocal solos and some male quartet numbers by Chillicothe high school students. The musical numbers were given under the direction of William Gaugh, a S. T. C. graduate, whose home is in Maryville.

The toastmasters for the evening were Lloyd King president of the Schoolmasters Club and J. W. Pierce, president of the Knights of the Hickory Stick and superintendent of schools at Skidmore.

The chief speakers on the program were: President Uel W. Lamkin of Maryville; President Eugene Fair of Kirksville; Joe Stewart of the Chillicothe School Board; Clarence Watkins, editor of the Chillicothe Constitution-Tribune; and F. H. Barbes, superintendent of Schools of St. Joseph, President of the Missouri State Teachers Association.

One of the highest points of interest in the meeting was reached when President Fair of Kirksville S. T. C. presented each Knight of the Hickory Stick with a genuine heavy hickory walking stick as a friendly gift of the members of the Schoolmasters Club. The sticks which were shipped from North Carolina were neatly shaped and polished and bore a stamp "Compliments of the Schoolmasters' Club."

Although the meeting was tinged with the thought of the seriousness of the hour for the educational needs of the children of the country, the dominant note was one of friendliness, optimism and courage.

GUESS WHO?

Miss Weiss was the young lady who was described in last week's "Guess Who."

Recently we heard of a small but mighty blond Senior who was becoming frantic because he had not been given a write-up in this column. We had felt that he was popular enough without this extra comment, however we must emphasize the fact that he is clever and someone said "cute." Sometimes he loses his temper—but strangely he keeps his friends. Just a hint—he isn't so bad on the baseball diamond.

U. G. Whiffen Takes Peru, Neb. S. T. C. Dr. Painter Has Position in West vs. Article Published

Instructor of Industrial Arts Resigns to Teach in Washington State College.

U. G. Whiffen, instructor of industrial arts at the College, has resigned his duties to accept a position as head of the Industrial Arts Department of the State Agricultural and Mechanical Arts College at Pullman, Washington.

Mr. Whiffen has been a member of the faculty of the College for the last six years, having come to the College in the fall of 1926 from the Excelsior Springs high school where he had taught for four years.

The College classes in industrial arts, including wood work, sheet metal, architectural drawing, mechanical drawing and methods courses, have been taught by Mr. Whiffen, who has his B. S. degree from Pittsburg, Kansas S. T. C., and his M. A. degree from Iowa State College at Ames, Ia.

During the World War, Mr. Whiffen served with the Rainbow or 42 Division. He was in France eighteen months serving on small arms ammunition trains which carried ammunition to the front lines.

Mr. Whiffen's home town is Topeka, Kan. He served an apprenticeship in sheet metal work with the Rock Island Railroad at Horton, Kan., and his thesis for his Master's Degree was written on the "Boiler Maker's Trade."

The title for Mr. Whiffen in his new position will be "Assistant Professor" in the Department of Education and he will be head of the Industrial Arts department.

Mr. Whiffen will be greatly missed when it comes to repair work about the College.

He has contributed greatly to the successful staging of the Annual May Fete, in carrying out the designs of Miss Martindale, in the building of scenery and special stage properties. Mr. and Mrs. Whiffen will be leaving a host of friends at the College, and in the City, when they leave to take up their residence and duties June 13, in Pullman, Washington.

Social Conference Led by Paul Porter Is Well Attended

The social and economic conference, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., and led by Paul Porter, field secretary of the League for Industrial Democracy, was well attended. Mr. Porter delivered eight addresses.

He spoke Friday night in Social Hall on "How Closely Is Our Economic Future Tied to That of Other Countries?" A group of seven students from Tarkio College were guests at the meeting.

The second session was held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning when Mr. Porter spoke on "Students in A Changing World," and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon his subject was on "Russia Forges Ahead."

A picnic was held at 6 o'clock Saturday night in the Y. W. C. A. Hut in College Park. Later in the evening Mr. Porter spoke on "Free Speech and Labor Struggles."

Mr. Porter on Sunday morning addressed a joint meeting of the College classes of the M. E. church and M. E. church, South, on the subject, "The Relation Between Religion and Economics."

A public meeting was held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the M. E. church, South, for Mr. Porter's address on "Stopping the Next War."

His last address was delivered at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night at the First Christian church. His subject was, "Wherein Is Our Present Economic System Un-Christian?" The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. attended the service in a body.

A feature of the conference was the discussion period following each lecture.

Items From the Commerce Department

Tax Exempt Government Securities. In revising the tax system tax exempt government securities should be eliminated. They form a refuge for the wealthy men and women of the country and their use is grossly unjust.

At the present time there are approximately $34,000,000,000 worth of tax exempt securities in this country and a large majority of them are owned and held by wealthy individuals and large estates. The possibility of higher taxes on the rich has recently caused wealthy persons to seek these securities. Why should such an avenue of escape for taxation be afforded the men of wealth of our country? Why should some $34,000,000,000 of their wealth go untaxed?

STROLLER

The Stroller regrets to announce that the other day during his haphazard wanderings about the campus he noticed a little sign on the door of the powerhouse which ordered visitors to keep out, adding that the workmen were instructed to keep them out. At most institutions of higher learning, the powerhouse is considered interesting and educational enough that students are requested at some time or other to visit for their enlightenment. Should there be a revision of rules?

Miss Keith was seen carrying a wastebasket about the halls the other day. The Stroller wonders if she has taken up janitorial duties as a sideline.

That great Russian exile, Trosky seems to have a contemporary on the campus, at least in name. Ask Woolsey for an introduction, as well as other information.

Stephen G. has finally secured a much needed new ribbon for his typewriter. The Stroller is appreciative. Now if some of the letters on the keys were turned right side up on the machine things about room 212 would be just lovely.

It is reported that a paper has been passing about the campus which bears the statement: "Join the boys who protest against the feminine custom of going bare-legged who protest that the custom is ungainly undignified if not cruel. Membership costs ten cents the proceeds to go to buy hose for the Alpha Sigs."

The Stroller has heard something about a good old-fashioned hide-and-go seek party, to be held on the Campus or somewhere?

Hubert Garrett must be getting over weight; at least he is leaving a string of broken office chairs in his wake. Further evidences Mr. Garrett: "When I was married I weighed 135 pounds."

It is becoming more evident than ever that the women are likely to take all of the positions away from the men, since Kathryn Siddens was seen driving the big campus lawn mower recently. At any rate she made a heroic attempt to drive the machine.

PAUL PORTER

A young man, a speaker of remarkable ability, has just left our community. To many of the people who heard him in his various lectures that he gave over the week-end, he has left a renewed enthusiasm and a new philosophy of economic existence.

Mr. Porter is Field Secretary of the League for Industrial Democracy and was brought to this town by the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A., organizations of the College. These two groups have again demonstrated their great value to this educational institution, and should be congratulated for bringing such an enlightening speaker as Mr. Porter.

Mr. Porter brought with him a message pressing a new order in society—a society based on Christian principles. It will be a classless society where "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" will be far more than a mere phrase. To Mr. Porter the two major parties of today are nothing more than representatives of an arrogant capitalist order where no respect is shown for economic, political, or

S. T. C. Faculty Member Is Honored by Bibliographical Society of Oxford.

Dr. Anna M. Painter, chairman of the English Department of the College, is the author of a research article appearing in the March number of THE LIBRARY, a quarterly published in Great Britain by the Oxford University Press for the Bibliographical Society. It is a mark of distinction to have an article published by the Bibliographical Society in its magazine, for only the most scholarly work is accepted for publication; moreover, few papers not presented in person before the Society are even considered. Dr. Painter's essay was accepted as soon as offered and published in the next number of THE LIBRARY, Mr. A. W. Pollard, the editor and a noted scholar himself, reading proof on it in order that there might be no delay in its publication and that it might be published as nearly without error as possible.

The article is a bibliographical essay: "American Editions of the Poems of Burns before 1800." It is based upon extensive bibliographical research done while Miss Painter was at Yale, where she was granted the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1930. It presents some of the salient points of a certain section of her dissertation.

A Valuable Contribution.

The publication of this material places before a learned society and makes available for use some valuable additions to Burns' scholarship. Dr. Painter has established the conditions under which the first editions of the Poems of Burns were published in America. She shows that Philadelphia, and not New York, published the first edition—"one neat Pocket volume, price only Six Shillings. Handsomely bound and lettered. . . She points out slight variations in the Philadelphia and the New York editions, though she shows that both were reprints of the same Edinburgh edition. She comments upon some erroneous statements that have been made and perpetuated concerning the dates of the early Edinburgh editions. Her footnotes throw light on the first London edition of the Poems. Her method of establishing the facts involved consisted, among other things, of a careful study of all the newspapers of the time. One of the interesting points brought out in her article is that Scotsmen in America were as much pleased with the verse of Burns when it reached them as Scotsmen in Europe were and that without doubt they were responsible for the printing of American editions of Burns.

moral integrity. He would like to see these two parties, both of which are interested only in securing campaign funds, supplanted by a party and a social order having the interests of the common people at heart.

It is up to the American people who really desire a co-operative society based on Christian ideals to use their voting prerogative to help bring such a social order into existence.

NOW IS THE TIME.

Now is the time to insure a good quarter's record. No? Ask yourself a few questions. What did I start out to do in each course? How far have I succeeded in accomplishing this end? What remains to be done? How can I do it? The answers will likely indicate that a definite course of action is necessary, a course of action similar to the following: Review, mentally, the fields covered, separating the work into large units, and these large units into smaller. Fix in mind, definitely, the few facts or figures necessary for a correct understanding of the problems. Relate each course to the others you have had in the department. In so far as it is possible, relate the courses in different departments to each other. From what you know, construct practical problems to reach course. Likely, you cannot solve them without assistance. That is so much the better. Aside from actual class recitation work, term papers are just ahead. Remember that reference books are scarce during the last two weeks of school, that the spring contests are coming, that the May Fete is a month away, and that social events and the senior activities will occupy a surprising amount of time. The instructors, too, will appreciate early term papers. Somehow, it makes a better impression on the faculty to have papers in early rather than on the latest date—or even after that. You know what has to be done. Now is the time to do it.

Two Leagues Will Play in Twilight Baseball Schedule

Teams Will Compete in Either Hard Ball or Bean Ball Type of Game.

At a meeting of the twilight league baseball sponsors last night in the Chamber of Commerce office it was decided to have two baseball leagues in Maryville this summer.

One league composed of six teams will play with a soft ball and will be known as the Bean Ball League. The other league composed of four teams will play with the regulation hard ball and be known as the Hard Ball League. By this arrangement players who desire to play with the regulation ball can do so, and other men who prefer to play with the regulation soft ball can join one of the six teams in that league.

A board of control consisting of three members, Fred Newlon, Fred Doss and Walter Davis has been appointed to govern all matters concerning both leagues and all decisions rendered by this board will be final.

Firms who will sponsor teams in the Bean Ball League are Maryville Electric Light & Power Co., Daily Forum, Montgomery Shoe and Clothing Company, Townsends, Maryville Shoe Company, and the Water Tower bunch under the management of Joe Cornell. Teams to be sponsored in the Hard Ball League are Casey's Tire boys, Puritan Cafe, Fourth street merchants under Jack Donaldson, and the Wabash Railway company.

Although a definite date has not been set for the opening of the play it is thought that the two leagues will get under way around the first of May. Schedules are to be drawn up immediately.

The Bean Ball League will play on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights and the Hard Ball Leaguers on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Grid Coach Blames New Rule For Boy's Injury

Wilmington, O., Apr. 19.—(AP)—The revised football rules, relating to the kickoff, were exposed today to a coach's criticism that they were responsible for the critical injury of one of his players.

Tom Williams, 19, a Wilmington high school player, suffered a brain concussion in a practice game yesterday while trying to block an opponent.

Coach Amos Smith said Williams, playing a guard on the defensive team, was exposed to greater possibility of injury because the new rules prevented him from meeting the full speed of an opposing player with an equal force.

The Wilmington team went through a 10-game schedule last season, undefeated and without a serious injury, but Smith predicted the new kickoff rule will "result in more injuries than ever."

Cardinals Drop Fourth Straight Game of Season

World's Champions Appear to Be in For Hard Fight to Retain Title.

By the Associated Press
With the big league ball season one frigid week old, it begins to look as if the champion St. Louis Cardinals will receive a run for their money in the National League.

In losing their fourth straight home game yesterday the champions set a new low for the last two seasons, dropping into seventh place. Their longest losing streak at Sportsman's Park last season was three straight, and only once did they drop four in a row on the road.

Where they started last season with a succession of triumphs, winning eight of their first eleven games and taking a lead they never relinquished, they found themselves today with only two wins in six starts and a long, uphill climb before them.

Cubs Win 3 to 1.
It is probable Sergeant Street's boys will collect themselves soon and move around the top, but the odds are long against their making another such runaway as that of last year. Charlie Root of the Cubs set them down with four hits yesterday and would have scored a shut out but for an error by rookie Bill Herman in the ninth. The score was 3 to 1.

The one cheering note for the Cardinals is that the New York Giants, generally regarded as their most dangerous rivals, have an even worse start. Walter (Huck) Betts of the Boston Braves handed the McGrawmen a 7 to 1 beating yesterday, sending them definitely into the basement.

Led by Babe Herman and Ray Klop, the Cincinnati Reds further aroused their constituency with a 5 to 0 win over Pittsburgh. Klop held the Pirates to five hits while Herman drove in four of the Reds' runs with a double and a home run.

Phelps Blanks Phillies.
Babe Phelps, a sensation for Brooklyn in 1930 and a flop in 1931, made his 1932 debut by blanking the Phillies, 8 to 0, on six hits. Glenn Wright, dodger shortstop, hit a homerun and two singles.

The Washington Senators supplied the fireworks in the American League with a crushing 15 to 7 triumph over the Athletics. Walt Johnson's proteges topped things off with a six-run spurge in the ninth, to which Sam West and Joe Judge contributed homers. Wes Ferrell rang up his second victory as Cleveland stopped the Chicago White Sox, 2 to 1. Vic Fraser pitched sterling ball for the losers, permitting five hits in eight innings, but the Sox made six errors behind him.

Whitlow Wyal of Detroit likewise scored victory No. 2 as the Tigers took a loose one from the St. Louis Browns, 14 to 7. The Tigers knocked Sam Gray from the hill in the fourth.

The Yanks and Red Sox were not scheduled.

Earle Sande Is Planning to Ride in Kentucky Derby

New York, Apr. 19.—(AP)—Earle Sande is on his way back to the top again with designs on the Kentucky Derby.

Winner of three derbies, a feat equalled only by the great Isaac Murphy, Sande again has answered the call of the turf with hopes of being the first to boot home four winners in the $50,000 blue grass classic, which will be renewed at Churchill Downs May 7.

Sande hasn't got a mount yet but he has several prospects. Maxie Hirsch, trainer of Mrs. Louis G. Kaufman's Tick On and On Post, has promised him one of the colts if both are sent to the post. Pete Walls, contract rider for the stable, will get his choice but even Hirsch can't decide which is the better of the two.

Two years ago Sande returned to the saddle, after a disastrous experience as trainer and owner, to ride to fame and fortune aboard Gallant Fox. He previously had won the derby with Flying Ebony and Zev.

258 Distance Runners Will Be in Boston A. A. Marathon

Boston, April 19.—(AP)—Paul De Bruyn, 24-year-old German, today won the 36th annual Boston Athletic Association's marathon run from Hopkinton to Boston. His time was 2 hours 33 minutes and 36 2-5 seconds.

Jimmy Henigan, of Boston, last year's winner, was second, finishing in 2:34:32. Willie Kyronen, of the Finnish-American A. C., was third. Whitey Michelson of the Millrose A. C., New York, was fourth.

Boston, Apr. 19.—(AP)—A place on an Olympic marathon team and the laurel of the Boston A. A. marathon classic beckoned today to 258 distance runners who waited for the starters' gun at Hopkinton, more than 26 miles of feeblistering road away. Of the crowd who will leap away at noon, however, only a small percentage were conceded a chance of winning the grind.

Among the starters are candidates for five Olympic marathon teams and four former winners of the Boston A. A. event. Clarence Demar, 44-year-old school teacher who has won the race seven times out of 13 starts will run.

Business Men Are Closely Watching Grain Price Trend

Washington, April 19.—(AP)—Business men are watching agricultural prices these days as they are the stock market for signs of returning strength that may herald better times.

They believe the present economic situation is too complex for either business or agriculture to merge into the sunlight alone and that they must come out more nearly together.

For that reason the price of wheat, moving toward higher ground on reports of a prospective short crop, has captured the attention of business and industrial leaders.

Discussing the interplay of agricultural and business influences, Chairman Stone of the farm board said he doubted if a recovery in business alone could offset the drag of low purchasing power of the 40 per cent of the nation's population directly dependent upon farming.

Expressing the opinion that he believed business and agriculture will recover almost simultaneously, he added: "During the process of this recovery, business analysts will keep their eyes on agriculture as they have not done since the 90's when the price of wheat led the way out."

"Shot Heard Around World" Circles Globe—by Radio

Schenectady, N. Y., April 19.—(AP)—A echo of the "shot heard round the world," that signalled the beginning of the American revolution at Concord, 157 years ago, went riding around the globe again today—on short wave radio. The shot of today was fired by Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, and cracked forth from an ancient long barreled bayoneted musket actually used on that historic occasion.

The musket shot literally was heard around the world today over a globe-wriddling short wave hookup, linking the General Electric company's experimental radio station with a similar station in Holland, by relay to Java, thence to Australia, and then back to the United States. The sound of the shot returned to Governor Ely in the radio station here a perceptible split second after the trigger had been pulled.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan Gould
Associated Press Sports Editor

Tucked away in the box score summaries of the opening baseball festivities were a pair of lines involving more than passing interest:

"Stolen base—Martin."

"Stolen base—Chapman."

This means the speed boys are off on the most entertaining gallop since the days when players like Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins, Bob Bescher and Max Carey were tearing up the base paths and making the catcher's life miserable.

Pepper Martin stole only 21 bases last season but he didn't really get under way until the world's series, when he swiped five bags off Mickey Cochrane. Gabby Cstreet has taken the wraps off his youthful outfield star this year and it would not be surprising to see Martin go beyond the 50 mark.

Ben Chapman led both leagues in 1931 by several city blocks in the spectacular art that has come back to usefulness and popularity. The rangy Yankee outfielder stole 61 bases. On this season's opening day against the Athletics he worked a double steal with Lou Gehrig. Martin and Chapman both have developed rapidly as base-stealers, taking advantage of a situation where the backstops had more or less been lulled into a feeling of security and the pitchers had acquired habits of carelessness in keeping an eye on the runners.

Still A Ways To Go

It isn't likely that even the now emphasis on base-running will dislodge the modern records for this particular brand of larceny, much less the old marks made by Billy Hamilton and Harry Stovey with the old Philadelphia clubs.

Ty Cobb set the twentieth century mark when he stole 96 bases in 1915. The best National league record within the same period was made by Bob Bescher of Cincinnati who stole 80 in 1911.

Stovey ran wild in 1888 when he was credited with 156 stolen bases but that was before the catching defense was perfected.

Hamilton, in 1891, under conditions more or less the same as today stole 116 bases and this is generally recognized as the best on record.

He Stands and Waits

What makes Max Bishop of the blond hair and feghorn voice so hard to pitch to?

Lefty Gomez was asked this question after he had walked the Athletics' leadoff man four straight times in the opening game but he couldn't give a definite answer.

"I can't figure it out myself," responded Lefty. "This Bishop just stands there and takes 'em and the umpires call 'em balls. He doesn't look or act any tougher to pitch to than anybody else. Of course he must have a great sense of distance."

Some of the boys think Max has walked so often that he has the arbiters convinced he knows as much as they do about the difference between a ball and a strike. If Max lets 'em go by, they say, the umpires figure the chances are in favor of a ball.

But this, of course, is not to be taken seriously. Bishop simply combines a good eye with the ability to control that impulse to smack at balls on the border line.

Bishop twice has equalled the American league record of receiving five tickets to first base in a single game. After four straight walks in the opener Gomez finally forced Max to fly out to Chapman.

Exhibit of Child's Play Interests Will Be Part of Homes Week

An interesting feature of the Better Homes Weeks program to be given the last three days of this week in the Roseberry building on West Third street under the supervision of the 20th Century club, is the section devoted to "play interests in the home."

The exhibit will show the materials, in as far as it has been possible to collect them, which will contribute toward satisfying the child's play needs. The articles in the exhibit take into consideration the dramatic, constructive and rhythmic play interests as well as the materials which provide for growth in motor control.

The exhibit will be open from 4:30 to 6 p. m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday at which time groups of children from the College kindergarten will be seen in actual use of the exhibits.

Funeral Services Are Held For Mrs. Mary Park

Mrs. Mary C. Park died at 2:45 o'clock Monday afternoon at her apartment at 210 1/2 North Main street, following a short illness of heart trouble. She was born January 11, 1851 at Kendallville, Ind. When a young woman she moved to Kansas City, then to Excelsior Springs and about ten years ago came to Maryville. Her husband, John W. Park died about twenty-five years ago.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Albert A. Panhorst. The body will be accompanied by Miss Mae Howland, a niece, to Kendallville, where short services and burial will be made beside Mr. Park.

Mrs. Park is survived by one brother, Iver Walton and a niece, Miss Viola Fullerton of Pontiac, Mich.; Miss Howland, who made her home with Mrs. Park, and a number of other nieces and nephews.

John Born, Miss Bertha Born, and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wilkerson of Savannah were here to attend the funeral.

Kreuger Used Huge Sums in Bribery, Inquiry Shows

Stockholm, Sweden, April 19.—(P)—Investigators of the Kreuger companies disclosed today that they had learned Ivar Kreuger negotiated in 1930 for control of the largest match factory in Spain.

Spanish law prevented his acquiring control and Kreuger gave 200,000,000 pesetas to Jose Serran, a member of the Spanish senate, the investigators said. Instead of using the money to buy for Kreuger's account, the investigation disclosed, he fled to Italy and was arrested there. Action against him was halted on Kreuger's demand.

Today's newspapers said it had been learned that Kreuger used enormous sums in bribery and was himself a victim of blackmail.

Chile Goes Off Gold Standard as Long Fight Fails

Santiago Chile April 19.—(P)—Chile went off the gold standard officially today after nine months of unsuccessful effort to maintain the peso at par through rigid control of purchases of foreign exchange in the legitimate market.

Under the provisions of the government bill which was approved by Congress late last night the value of the peso will be subject to a virtually open market with a few restrictions to prevent a wholesale collapse of the currency.

Actually, Chile has been off the gold standard since last July, following the overthrow of the government of Carlos Ibanez, when the new government imposed exchange control to prevent a flight of gold from the country. Officially, however, the peso has been at par, with declining transactions at this rate. Most of the money has been handed in a "bootleg" market which has determined the real value of the currency.

Has Bill to Give Farmer Minimum Price for Crops

Washington, Apr. 19.—(P)—A revised bill seeking to secure to farmers the cost of production of the major agricultural commodities was introduced today by senator Thomas (D. Okla.).

The bill covers wheat, cotton, wool, beef, pork, dairy and poultry products. The secretary of Agriculture and the farm board would be empowered to estimate yearly the probable domestic consumption and production and fix a production cost average.

They then would have authority to set a minimum price on commodities sold for domestic consumption and empowered to regulate distribution on a prorata basis among farmers.

Farmers who wished to dispose of more than the amount to which they were entitled would be required to take the world price for the commodity.

Weather Pulls Corner Posts

As every farmer knows the freezing weather after an unusually wet fall and winter, damaged and in most cases killed, the fields of red clover by breaking the roots of each clover plant. Carl Wray says. Now comes Bert Hubbell, of Barnard vicinity and not as a joke but a real fact says that the self same weather that pulled up the clover roots, also pulled up a lot of fence corner posts. Just what style of hitch Jack Frost took on said posts is not stated, but there they stand to "speak" for themselves, several inches above their wanted location. The moral is, that Jack Frost certainly has a pull.

THE GIBSON PLAN

The American proposal for armament reduction, broached the other day at Geneva by Ambassador Hugh Gibson, at least has the merit of tackling the vexing problem of security from an entirely new angle.

Since the World War, practically all attempts to reduce armaments have come to nothing because certain nations, especially France, have insisted that they must be safe from aggression by possible enemies before they can disarm.

The American proposal, aimed to get around this objection, is simply that the most powerful offensive weapons available be legislated out of existence. If the defense is given an overwhelming preponderance over the offense, it is argued, all nations will be safe from aggression because no one will care to wage a war on the offensive.

Accordingly, it is suggested that heavy mobile guns, tanks and poison gas be abolished.

Back of all of this, of course, there is one single factor; the tremendous increase in the fire power of infantry made possible in the last generation by the development of quick-firing small caliber arms.

At the time of the American Revolution, an infantryman was doing well to get off one shot every minute and a half. By the time of the Civil War things were a little better, but two shots a minute still constituted extraordinarily rapid shooting.

Then came the breech-loading, repeating rifle. The infantryman now could fire half a dozen shots a minute without undue haste. On the heels of this came the machine gun, capable of spitting out bullets at a rate better than one a second—and the defense became almost infinitely superior to the offense.

To meet this there came a great development in artillery. If the defending infantry could not be routed by the bayonet, it could be blown out of existence by a heavy barrage, or suffocated in a flood of gas shells. Hand in hand came the tank, to root out and destroy machine gun nests. The old equilibrium of war was at least partially restored.

Now the American proposal urges that the machine gun and automatic rifle be made supreme again. Whether it is accepted or not, it marks an interesting development in the history of warfare.

Debts, Taxes and Prohibition.

"In the twenty years from 1920 to 1931 our government has passed up a total of eleven billion dollars in revenue," said C. T. Revere, of Munds, Winslow & Potter, in a radio address April 12. At this time when Congress is searching for sources of tax revenues to meet that part of a $2,000,000,000 annual deficit not to be covered by retrenchment, such a statement should command attention and call for repeal of the 18th Amendment.

Mr. Revere was discussing prohibition as an economic question. The total figure of revenue lost since 1920 to 1931 is an estimate based on the per capita liquor consumption of the 15 states which at the time national prohibition went into effect permitted the sale of alcoholic liquors, and the excise rates in force in 1919.

The figure, of course, is an estimate. A congressional subcommittee some time ago made a careful study of probable consumption of 4 per cent beer under different rates of taxation. Its conclusion was that a tax of 2 cents a point would yield a minimum revenue of $347,000,000, with $800,000,000 the maximum; a 4 cents a point tax, equal to almost $10 a barrel, would yield a minimum of $650,000,000 and the maximum was placed at $1,100,000,000.

Professor Seligman, an acknowledged authority on taxation, made an estimate which supports that of Mr. Re-

Most wives dispute the statement that a woman stops hunting for a husband when the engagement is announced.

A New York peanut magnate said the elephant was his favorite animal. Just for spite, monkeys ought to go on a peanut strike.

French socialists are accusing the government of advancing millions to banks and neglecting the common people. News from Washington to Paris must travel fast.

A California man sold a strip of land an inch wide for $55. From what we know of California real estate men, it's a wonder he didn't try to sub-divide it.

Somebody found a rock in Connecticut the other day 277,000,000 years old. Well, they certainly were a long time finding it.

He found that over a course of years the tax on tobacco was maintained at a certain proportion with liquor revenues. Assuming the same proportion at this time, he said the revenue from liquors should be from $1,000,000,000 to $1,250,000,000. Instead of heavy taxes on other things, including some nuisance taxes, this particular one could be raised higher than in earlier days and the revenue increased proportionately. In these times, when federal, state and local taxes are beginning to resemble confiscation, that might be desirable.

Mr. Revere asserted that "our country would receive this enormous increase in national income without placing one dollar additional burden on the taxpayers. Moreover, this revenue would not equal the toll now exacted by bootleggers, gangsters and corrupt politicians." Add to this the state and local revenues to be derived from this source and it distinctly promises that "farm relief" and railroad troubles would be solved in relief from the burden of heavy taxes.—Wall Street Journal.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By Robbin Coons.

Hollywood—This new screen guild looks like a great idea, And M. C. "Mike" Levee, the executive who founded it and is its head, should have an ideal time.

For he will be the only executive in the business who won't have to listen to the outraged complaints of writers, directors and stars who fume because their pet ideas are sacrificed to the "avid commercialism" of the movie industry.

Writers won't cry over the bedraggled remnants of their masterpieces as they see them on the screen.

Directors won't wail at being compelled to lower their intelligence to the street level to make a picture they're mentally above.

Stars won't storm at insults to their art.

Do What They Please

Because all—stars, directors, writers—will be doing only what they want to do, what they're really interested in, and as they want to do it.

That doesn't mean the Guild isn't aiming at the box-office, too. There'll be a board of directors, besides Levee, to pass on the box-office angle before ideas are approved for filming.

But once they are approved it'll be up to the artists to work out their own salvation—which is precisely what most of the artists say they want. Stars who suffered for want of good stories—in the past there have been Ruth Chatterton, Clara Bow, Ann Harding, to name only a few—would be the principal tappers at Levee's office door.

A Break

Maybe it's true that the breaks come in this business if you wait long enough. Here's Matty Kemp who really hasn't waited long as movie carers go. Three or four years ago Mack Sennett picked Matty as a young fellow showing great promise. He teamed him with Sally Ellers in a feature "The Goodbye Kiss" that was no sensation.

Sally kept on got a few good parts to stay in the running and finally crashed through in "Bad Girl."

Matty slipped into the background, with just a small part now and then to keep up his spirits, and seemed likely to remain in obscurity—until the other day, when out of a dark sky came his big chance.

Matty will play Will Rogers' son in "Down to Earth" and because Will Rogers has a large following Matty will be seen. If he can act, this will be the beginning of his real career.

Frank Tuttle caught much of the Lubitsch sauciness and spirit in his direction of "This Is The Night"—a frothy farce distinguished for this quality, for its excellent handling of music, and good performances by Lily Damita, Roland Young, Charles Ruggles, Thelma Todd and a handsome newcomer, Cary Grant.

You Can't Marry

By Julia Cleft-Addams.

SYNOPSIS: Georgie Revell is in love with Eddie Townsend, but can't decide to accept him because her employer, Matching, has an unbreakable rule of firing any woman working for him who marries. She hates to tell him, she says to her cousin Jenny, whom she is supporting. Jenny appreciates Georgie's kindness, but is indignant because Georgie treats her like a child. Georgie gives her a silver dress on her twenty-fourth birthday, but continues to dominate her. The two girls are going out to dinner with Ryder Vale and a friend of his, and Georgie sends Jenny on ahead to find the strange man. Jenny dislikes Vale's friends, and has no hope of approving this one. She is met, however, by a man who instantly holds her attention. His intentness leaves her confused. She is not the Miss Revell, she explains. "She's just behind me," she says. "I'm only Jenny."

Chapter 2.

HIDDEN LAUGHTER

Jenny felt color creeping into her face and added, goaded by shyness:

"My name is Jenny Revell."

"Jenny Revell."

He repeated it softly. He was perfectly grave, not even in his voice was there any tremor of amusement. But when he moved to meet Georgie and Ryder Vale, now within a few paces of them, Jenny was left with the echo of laughter all about her—and with the sound of her own name spoken softly, as though it were a song.

"—Always prefer a party when the host is unpunctual," Georgie was announcing. "Gives the guests at least a few minutes to enjoy themselves." She laughed at the tall man, who laughed back at her.

"Garth Aveney," said Vale, introducing him. And the four of them moved into the restaurant.

Whenever Jenny went out with Georgie and one or more of her "stallwarts," as she called them, she felt like a little girl included in a grown-up outing. Tonight she was not actually at the tail of the procession, for Ryder was at her shoulder, but she had the sensation of lagging slowly behind it. Over her head Vale was teasing Georgie about her lateness and she, unheeding, was listening to something Garth Aveney was telling her. Jenny sat rather bleakly down at the glittering little table that had Ryder's name on it. While he became occupied with the waiter, she looked at the man on her left.

He was tall and slim and he sat in the easy pose of tall, slim men, with a hand on his hip and his long legs carelessly disposed. He was not tanned, but he had an out-of-door look and there was a tinge of blue in his very smooth black hair. Jenny thought his eyes were blue, too, until he glanced her way and then she thought they were gray. She could see that Georgie was rather liking the look of him.

And he, of course, was liking the look of Georgie; that rich, generous splendor, that suggestion of the penny in flower. Wonderful Georgie, of course he wanted to monopolize her. Many men did—it was natural. . . .

"I beg your pardon," stammered Jenny.

"I asked you, Miss Cinderella," grinned Ryder, "whether your fairy godmother will let you stay later than twelve tonight?"

"You must ask Georgie," she said slyly. "She gave me this frock."

"People don't have a birthday every day of their lives," cried Georgie, breaking off her vivacious chatter. "Twenty-four today is that infant, Ryder, and don't dare treat her like a little girl."

Jenny's cheeks became warmer. She wished to heaven Georgie hadn't thought it necessary to say that! Some men at the next table, who had already given her quick, appraising stares, stared again and harder. Garth Aveney's long body swayed around on his chair and he met her unhappy gaze.

"Many happy returns," he said negligently. Again she had the sense of his hidden laughter. The lights, dimmed to a soft rose, shone upon his eyes and she saw that they were not gray or blue, but hazel. They held hers, searched them; let them go. She sat back with a pulse pounding in her throat and watched him turn back to Georgie. But Georgie was gaily haranguing Ryder. And as though he snatched an opportunity, the stranger leaned again to Jenny.

"Do you like this kind of birthday party?" he asked.

"No," said Jenny.

It had been jolted out of her and when he nodded and once more deserted her for Georgie she sat aghast, desperately afraid that Ryder Vale had heard her. But he had not. He looked, as always, self-satisfied; the prosperous, rather strident City man.

Either because of the silver dress or because it suited him to let his other two guests entertain each other, he devoted himself to Jenny. This, he insisted, was her party. Presently, when he had enjoined the orchestra into playing one of her favorites, she found herself dancing with him.

"Looks like a stretcher-case," he remarked, jerking his head towards Garth Aveney's dark head, still near the reddish gleam of Georgie's. "Time that Townsend chap turned up again, what?"

"I don't think Georgie is specially interested in Eddie Townsend," said Jenny mechanically. Georgie had told her long ago to stave off enquiries with this kind of thing. An acknowledged engagement to Eddie was the last thing Georgie wanted.

"Seems not," admitted Ryder. He puckered up his rather fat face into the grin that always made Jenny think he was going to cry! "Odd chap. Aveney—evidently seen Georgie before somewhere, though he says not. Asked me two or three times to arrange a party like this so that he could meet her."

Jenny, telling herself that she was not interested, let her eyes wander to the table where the others sat. There was a big mirror behind it and for a second she believed that while he talked and listened to Georgie, his eyes were upon the reflected dancers, upon one dancing silver figure moving in the mirror. . . . She frowned the fancy out of her mind. At that distance it could only be her fancy. She said casually:

"Is he a great friend of yours?"

"Who, Aveney? No. Know nothing about him, really, though I've a notion I ought to. Met him—forgot where. He seemed keen to have a drink with me, but that's explained now." Again his head and his grin indicated the table in the recess.

"Yes," said Jenny firmly. She thought it time to be firm with herself. That softly spoken "Jenny Revell"—she closed her ears and tried to forget it.

(Copyright, Julia-Cleft Addams)

"Don't you want to dance with me?" Garth asks Jenny tomorrow. Her heart and her pride battle to answer.

George Presnell's Marital Problem Is Partly Solved

Bakersville, N. C., Apr. 19.—(P)—The marital problem of George Presnell, acquitted here last week of a charge of slaying Lewis Buchanan twenty-nine years ago, had been partially solved today.

The first Mrs. Presnell, who stood loyally by him throughout the trial, bade him a friendly farewell yesterday and returned to her small cottage on Rock Creek, high in the mountains of western North Carolina, and left Presnell free to return to Missouri and the other woman he married after leaving his first wife following the slaying. Presnell attributed the slaying to remarks made by Buchanan to his first wife.

The second Mrs. Presnell has written from Columbia, Mo., that she expects Presnell to divorce his first wife and return to her for a second wedding ceremony. Presnell left here yesterday to visit relatives in Tennessee and "think things over," without saying when he would return to Missouri.

After leaving North Carolina, Presnell went to several states and some years ago he married his second wife at Centerville, Ia., under an assumed name. When he was arrested at Prathersville, Mo., his second wife remained loyal to him and mortgaged her property to provide funds for his defense at the trial.

Explaining her attitude, the first Mrs. Presnell said: "all this time he has been living with a woman not his wife, and I cannot live with him again."

Newspapers Are Dominant Medium For Advertising

New York, April 19.—(AP)—Newspapers are called the dominant advertising medium in the United States by Kenneth Collins, executive vice-president and advertising director of R. H. Macy and Company. In his book, "The Road to Good Advertising," published today.

"Few business ventures in America requiring the stimulus of advertising could live without the newspaper," said the department store executive. "In it we spend more than one-half of the entire budget for all forms of publicity. We do so rightly."

He held that advertising could help greatly in ending the business slump by the use of absolute frankness as to conditions and showing how values are the greatest in many years.

Mr. Collins said newspaper advertising had not produced results to the full extent of its capability only because of "fearful mishandling of advertising by the advertiser." He emphasized that newspapers of today are much better than those of other times and called upon advertisers to take advantage of the superior facilities now offered.

MARKETS

Brisk Advances in Grain Occur in Late Trading

Chicago, Apr. 19.—(AP)—Brisk rallies in grain prices took place in the last hour today, the market giving evidence of having worked itself into an oversold condition.

Preceding the late rally, wheat was down 5¢ a bushel from the recent high. A stimulating factor was word that Texas mills had paid 3½ cents over Chicago May price for No. 1 hard wheat as compared with 1 cent over May about three weeks ago.

Wheat closed ½¢ to ½¢ above yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to ½¢ off, oats ½¢ to ½¢ up, and provisions 5¢ to 25¢ down.

Chicago, Apr. 19.—(AP)—Jarred by stock market downturns and by bearish effects of rain over part of the winter wheat belt, grain values underwent fresh early declines today. A statement by Chairman Stone of the federal farm board that he expected steady strengthening of the wheat market and a rise of around 10 cents a bushel was without any immediate apparent influence opening ½¢ to ½¢ off, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started ½¢ to ½¢ down and continued to weaken.

Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas all reported rainfalls that would tend to relieve apprehension as to growing wheat, although not helpful to grain which had been winter killed. Helping to rally wheat prices, however, from early setbacks was an authoritative unofficial crop summary indicating that the condition of winter wheat in the four states named and in Colorado as well would average only 61 per cent of normal. This compared with 68 reported by the government on April 8 and 74 unofficially estimated the last week in March.

Navy Bill Will Cut $15,000,000 From Estimates

Greatest Part of Outlay Will Go For Pay—Some New Construction.

Bonus Opponents Heard

LaGuardia Proposes National Unemployment Insurance Plan to Relieve All Classes of Jobless.

Washington, April 19.—(AP)—The $326,340,000 navy department appropriation bill was taken up by the House today while the Senate debated the supply measure for the commerce, labor, justice and state departments.

Although carrying $41,230,000 for construction of new warships and for modernizing old vessels, the bill is $15,336,000 below the budget estimates recommended by President Hoover and $31,921,000 less than the total outlay for the current year.

In submitting the bill for immediate consideration by the House, Chairman Byrnes pointed out the appropriations committee to date has reduced budget estimates on supply bills $136,000,000. In this bill the committee followed the policy laid down by Byrnes at the beginning of the session not to increase a single budget estimate.

All Activities Affected.

Virtually every activity of the navy was affected by the cuts. The bulk of the outlay allowed goes for pay of which $148,000,000 is for navy and marine personnel and $82,800,000 for civilian workers.

This provides for a naval enlisted personnel of 79,700, and 15,343 for the marine corps; 5,489 naval line officers and 977 marine officers; 1,700 midshipmen at the naval academy, besides nearly three thousand staff and warrant officers and 498 nurses.

Modification of the prohibition laws was urged before a Senate committee by a number of witnesses while another group adversely reported 7 to 4 the Bingham bill to legalize four per cent beer.

LaGuardia Opposes Bonus Representative LaGuardia (R., N. Y.), himself a veteran, opened hearings before the ways and means committee in opposition to the $2,000,000, 000 soldiers' bonus with endorsement of national unemployment insurance.

Advocates of the payment through a two billion dollar currency inflation concluded the presentation of their case yesterday.

Under LaGuardia's unemployment insurance proposal, an unemployment commission would be created to maintain an unemployment insurance fund by a welfare tax on employees and employers, including a special tax on all incomes.

Shortly before the day's hearings opened, Representative Mapes (R., Mich.), announced his opposition to full payment of the bonus on the ground that the treasury was in no shape to pay it now and the money inflation plan was unsound.

Many Other Unemployed. "It is only the veterans who were unemployed, we could deal with the situation satisfactorily," LaGuardia said.

"But making wholly extravagant allowances, today only thirteen per cent of the unemployed are veterans."

"Can we take that small group and disregard the need of others? Can we go to the extent of putting printing presses to work and printing two billion dollars? Will that solve the unemployment problem?"

"Let us do something that will really help the veterans and at the same time look to preventing these economic depressions in the future."

"Since the war every possible preference has been given the veterans by civil governments, both national and state."

"What will be the feeling of the veteran's neighbor who is out of work if Congress says it has settled the unemployment question by paying the bonus?"

Favors Federal Pay Cut Meantime Chairman McDuffie said his economy committee had not yet been able to determine how the President's furlough plan could be adapted to senators and representatives and it looked "like the members of Congress will have to take a cut" in pay.

College Seeks Rooms For Spring Contest Entrants

The College is requesting that individuals having rooms for rent during the Spring Contests, April 28, 29 and 30 please list them at the Chamber of Commerce office not later than April 23.

This year the College is not paying for either the rooms or the meals of the contestants and therefore cannot guarantee the use of any rooms listed. However, it is expected that a number of contestants will find it necessary to remain in Maryville over night and it is for their convenience that the rooms are to be listed.

Rooms are to be paid for at the rate of fifty cents per person per night and are to be paid for in advance and at the time the room is engaged.

Please phone your rooms to the office of the Chamber of Commerce, Hanamio 639, Farmers 120.

Worst Is Over in Great Britain Chancellor Says

Revival of Trade and Employment Recently Arouses Hope.

Washington, April 19.—(AP)—Failure of the New British budget to provide for war debt and reparations payments next year, brought a quick declaration today from Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, an administration spokesman, that this government expected to make the debt collection.

Foreign nations do not have to make any debt payments to the United States under the one year moratorium until next December and if there is any hint of a continuation of that moratorium, as suggested in the British budget, Senator Reed said he did not know of it. He called last night at the House.

London, April 19.—(AP)—Revival of trade and employment in the past few months gives Great Britain reason to hope that the worst of her economic depression is over, Neville Chamberlain told parliament today.

The chancellor of the exchequer expressed this hope in the course of his budget speech in the House of Commons.

"The past year," he said, "has been one of anxiety, difficulty and hardship. It is only in the last few months that some revival of trade and employment has led us to hope that at least the worst is over."

Reparations Balance War Debt. "Coming now to the financial year 1932-1933, I am including in the budget no receipts from reparations and no outgoings for war debts. The two are self-balancing."

"Later in the year, after the Lausanne conference, I shall submit whatever proposals may be necessary to give effect to the measures we agree upon."

The chancellor hinted that additional import duties soon would be announced.

The total expenditure for the coming year will be 766,000,000 pounds ($2,887,820,000). Mr. Chamberlain estimated revenue, on the basis of present taxation and exclusive of the recently-imposed import duties, at 731,300,000 pounds, leaving a deficit of 34,700,000 pounds.

"And where," he demanded, "would we have found that sum without the new import duties?"

No Beer Tax Charge. He said he expected 27,000,000 pounds from the 10 per cent import duties; 1,000,000 pounds from the abnormal importations duty, and 5,000,000 pounds from the additional import duties still to be announced.

This totalled 33,000,000 pounds reducing the estimated deficit to 1,700,000 pounds.

There will be no relief for the income taxpayer and beer will cost as much as ever.

Mr. Chamberlain said he proposed to wind up the present exchange account and to open a new account which he will call the equalization account.

He proposes to ask for power to borrow up to 150,000,000 pounds for this account.

World Looks to U. S. to Lead Way Out of Crisis

Former Congressman Addresses College Assembly This Morning.

Clear Thinking Needed

Wrong Move By This Nation Would Add to Gravity of Situation, Dewey Short Declares.

The present world crisis, brought about by an unstable economic order is a problem graver than that which faced the world during 1917-19, Dewey Short, former congressman from the fourteenth Missouri district, said in his address at 10 o'clock this morning at the College.

Speaking on the subject, "America, Whither Bound," Mr. Short did not say what the outcome will be for America under present conditions, but he intimated that if changing social attitudes are permitted to run unchecked that the situation would be an unpleasant one.

The former congressman, who has visited almost every part of the world and who has spent considerable time in study in foreign universities, says that everywhere conditions are extremely serious.

Need Clear Thinking. Now, Mr. Short told the students, is the time to keep clear heads and to think reasonably. All countries are looking to America, he said, and for America to do the wrong thing in its greatest hour of need for right thinking, would have a serious bearing on the rest of the world.

Political discord, he said, must not be tolerated in such a period of insistence upon relief from the ills of the economic system.

Mr. Short said that the placing of wealth in the hands of the few is undemocratic, but he did not say what should be done to re-adjust this condition in American life.

He used the figures to show that before the revolution in Russia 97 per cent of that country's wealth was owned by 3 per cent of the population. Today, in America, 80 per cent of the wealth is owned by 4 per cent of the population.

Wouldn't Work in U. S. Mr. Short made it quite clear that he did not believe the Russian system would ever be workable in the American class of society.

"The Russian system," he said, "was established for an ignorant class, but the American people are too intelligent to launch upon such an experiment in social life."

On the subject of internationalism, Mr. Short pointed out that the flight of Lindbergh has brought Paris to our very back door, and the exploits of Commander Hugo Eckener in his record Zeppelin flight around the world had "annihilated space and conquered time."

Nations live closely together in this age, he said, and one cannot exist without the other.

Mr. Short showed that Germany was crushed financially by the burden of reparations from the last war, but does not advocate cancellation of war debts.

Anniversary of Lexington. Since this is the anniversary of the Battle of Lexington and the Washington bi-centennial year, Mr. Short based portions of his talk on national loyalty to the principles for which men died in the American Revolutionary days and to the principles advocated by Washington in his farewell address.

When Washington delivered his immortal farewell speech, Mr. Short said, he was as a father speaking to his son, guiding his course of action and warning him of the dangers to arise in the future.

Marriage License A marriage license was issued late yesterday to Homer K. Powell and Lois Brown, both of Maltland.

Got Marriage License According to the St. Joseph Gazette a marriage license was issued in St. Joseph yesterday to William K. Edwards and Mrs. Leneta Greenlee, both of Maryville.

Robert M. Godsey is visiting his sister, Mrs. H. J. Dunshee, and family at Stanberry today.

Shall Highway No. 71 Be Moved?

Does Maryville want U. S. highway 71 to continue through its corporate limits on Main street, or does she prefer to have the highway re-routed west of town? Because of the fact that already a preliminary survey has been made by a state engineer and in all likelihood the general survey will be made this summer, it becomes necessary for Maryville to answer the above question and answer it within a short time.

It is commonly known that the state highway department adheres strictly to the policy that all highways should be routed around a town where possible; it is natural to assume that the highway department seriously proposes to reroute highway 71 around west of Maryville bringing the new road out at Wilcox. By doing this it would not be necessary to pave the present 71 route from the end of the pavement two miles north of Maryville at the junction, to Wilcox, and a saving of something over two miles of road building would be made by starting from a point south of Maryville and cutting west towards the country club and then north to Wilcox.

To prevent this change in our arterial highway one thing must positively be done and that is, Main street in Maryville must be widened on both ends and be either re-paved or re-surfaced. From the corner of First and Main, to Sixth and Main, our street is all right, being the necessary 30 feet wide and in fair condition. But from Wellings' Oil station to First and from Sixth to the north end, the street must be brought to regulation width and be repaved.

There undoubtedly are many reasons why the citizens of this city would prefer that U. S. 71 remain where it is, and on the other hand there are probably many reasons in the minds of our citizens why the highway should miss our main thoroughfare and be rerouted. The opinion of The Forum is that the majority of our citizens would prefer that 71 remain where it is and our street be put in condition. But it is our opinion also that to have the highway remain where it is, it becomes absolutely necessary at this time to assure the highway department that our street will be brought to regulation within a reasonable length of time, and petition the highway department to that effect. Even then it may be too late, but if that is the will of the citizens we should act at once.

How to raise funds to fix Main street at this time is a serious question. One of our citizens suggested this method in view of the fact that a bond issue would be unwise during these depressed times. His suggestion is, if it takes a popular election to legally make it possible to transfer funds from the water department of the city to the street fund, hold that election, and in case the money raised in this manner is not sufficient, authorize the city commission to raise our water rates back to the old standard and pay water bills monthly as we were doing previously. The Forum will gladly welcome the suggestion of any citizen in respect to this matter and particularly desires that our city commission express itself.

League's Inquiry Commission Goes Into Manchuria

Group Is Told 6,000,000 Flood Sufferers Are Living on Grass.

Japanese Plans Traced

Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang Says Plot to Seize Manchuria Had Been Considered For Many Years

Peking, April 19.—(AP)—The League of Nations inquiry commission prepared to leave for Mukden Manchuria, tonight to continue its investigation there.

The commission was told today that 6,000,000 Chinese flood sufferers in the Hwei river valley are existing chiefly on grass and bark of trees and that some of them are being sold in a human market.

Relief workers reported, according to Shao Peter Chuan, superintendent of the flood relief commission in the area, that the sale price of humans is one dollar in Chinese money, or about 20 cents, for each year of the person's age.

A 10-year-old child sells for about $2 and the rate rises up to age 25 when it begins to recede.

The chief supply of food, the commission was told, has been relief wheat from the United States, but only 4,000 tons have reached the valley thus far owing to the Sino-Japanese trouble.

SAYS JAPAN HAS LONG PLANNED CONQUEST

By JAMES P. HOWE

Peking, April 19.—(AP)—Japan, for years, has sought to bring Manchuria under some such control as she now exercises there through the new federated government of Henry Pu-Yi, Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang told me today.

The Japanese plans go back as far as the rule of his father, Chang Tso-Lin, he said, and the "open hostility" dates back more than three years to the time when he himself had the nationalist flag of the Kuomintang hoisted over Mukden and other principal cities.

The raising of the Chinese nationalist flag, signifying his decision to unite the Manchurian government with that of the national government at Nanking, took place, he said, in the face of specific warnings from Japanese army officers.

It was the first interview the young Marshal has given since the League of Nations inquiry commission arrived in China. Since the commission has been here Marshal Chang has been the chief witness at its sessions detailing the incidents which led to the seizure of Mukden last September and the subsequent Japanese campaign.

"The Japanese have long cherished a desire to set up in Manchuria a state, similar to the one they are now trying to establish," he said. "Had I agreed to be their figurehead I could easily have been in Manchuria still."

INSURGENTS ARE AGAIN IN ACTION

Mukden, Manchuria, April 19.—(AP)—Fresh outbursts of insurgent activity in the districts around Chengchiatun, Taonan and Tunglao caused Japanese military officials to rush reinforcements northward today from the territory south of Mukden to strengthen the northern garrisons.

Officials said that these redistributions of troops were due entirely to activities of the Chinese insurgents and were in no way connected with the reported tension between Japan and Soviet Russia over questions concerning the Chinese eastern railway.

Bank Robbed of $5,200 Two Men With Most of Loot Are Quickly Captured.

Kansas City, Kas., April 19.—(AP)—The Brotherhood State bank was held up and robbed of $5,200 here today, and a few moments later two men were captured and identified as participants in the robbery. A sugar sack containing $4,800 of the loot was found in a bush near the place the two suspects were captured.

The two men, Tony Decario, 26, and Gus Negro, 33, were overtaken and captured by a deputy sheriff, assisted by C. H. Thomas, bank teller. Thomas said he had pursued the two men and a companion who escaped, until the arrival of the officer, summoned by a burglar alarm.

Kenneth Crockett, 19-year-old school boy, who joined Thomas and the officer in the pursuit of the trio, pointed out the sugar sack filled with currency, which had been thrown in the bush. He said he saw one of the captured men toss it away.

The two men were captured three blocks from the bank. A third man later emerged from an alley a few feet away, held up a negro truck driver and forged him to take the bandit to Kansas City, Mo. Racing motor cars filled with police sped by the truck, but the bandit had concealed himself from view by forcing a negro girl riding with the truck driver to sit on his lap.

Gov. Roosevelt Accepts Challenge Hurlled by Smith

Executive Pledges Himself to Policy of Helping All Classes of People.

St. Paul, Minn., April 19.—(AP)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York has picked up the challenging gauntlet hurled at him by former Governor Alfred E. Smith.

Addressing a St. Paul audience last night, he denied vehemently the inference of Smith that he proposed "to set class against class" to further the ends of his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Gov. Roosevelt declared himself pledged to a program calling for a national "community of interests" as espoused by his party's founder, Thomas Jefferson.

"If this be treason," he said, "let us make the most of it."

And though his rejoinder to Smith was emphatic Gov. Roosevelt took the occasion a few minutes later to praise his "distinguished predecessor Gov. Smith" for his part in preserving New York's power resources for the people of that state.

Wants a Broad Policy

Citing Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin and Theodore Roosevelt as champions of the philosophy he is pledged to, Gov. Roosevelt said he was "pleading for a policy broad enough to include every part of our economic structure."

It was a policy, he said, "that seeks to help all simultaneously, that shows an understanding of the fact that there are millions of our people who cannot be helped by merely helping their employers because they are not employees in the strict sense of the term."

He declared that by those millions he meant the farmers, the small business men and the professional people. "Help for them," he said, "means a greater consumption not of luxuries but of the necessities of life and this means more factory wheels turning in the cities, more employment for the slightly industrial population, for the railroad workers and for the distributors."

Discusses Power Control "I plead not for class control but for a true concert of interest."

The main energies of his address were thrown into a discussion of water power development in which he urged national control on the promise that "the problem is national going beyond state borders" and with respect to the tariff in which he condemned the Hawley-Smoot bill.

He blamed it for contributing importantly to existing conditions and urged downward revision asserting that "a proper tariff policy must be a great change from the methods of the present administration." He declared that the increases provided by the Hawley-Smoot tariff "were not based on any scientific analysis" but were "political favors."

First Jury Case of Present Term Opens in Court

Richard Altman Is Suing Atchison County For $1,500 Back Salary.

Fight Over Legal Fee

Attorneys Engage in Contest Over Fee Arising From Motor Car Accident—Court Issues Orders.

The first jury case of the April term of circuit court was started this morning with Richard Altman suing Atchison county for $1,500 for back salary in the year of 1920 alleged to be due him. The case was brought here on a change of venue from the circuit court at Rock Port. Altman claims that this salary is due him one of the years that his father was circuit clerk of Atchison county and he was the deputy clerk.

J. M. Gerlach, prosecutor for Atchison county is defending for the county and Hal Hunt and Virgil Rathbun are attorneys for the plaintiff.

The jury selected to hear the case is composed of C. S. Johnson, Harry Jensen, Charles Hanna, Albert Luyth, Manning Moore, H. H. Toel, James Messinger, Leland McKee, Elmer Russell, H. E. Bancroft, Henry Rutherford and William Kidd.

In a hearing which required most of yesterday, attorneys were contesting for attorneys' fees alleged to be due them in a damage suit brought by Goldie McCreary against the Heartney service company of Maryville.

Arose From Motor Accident.

The suit resulted over an automobile accident and some $1,600 was paid by the defendant through his insurance company. However, at last term of court, Joe Goldman, St. Joseph attorney, filed an intervening petition for 50 per cent of the attorney fees, claiming that the plaintiff in the case had engaged him to institute the court proceedings and then had broken her contract.

Ellis G. Cook prosecuted the damage suit in the circuit court here and contended that the case was turned over to him by the firm of Johnson and Greathouse of St. Joseph, whom they claimed were employed by the plaintiff to get 50 per cent of the damages as attorneys.

Evidence was completed yesterday and the case continued for argument. Mr. Cook filed a motion after the evidence was introduced to have the intervening petition dismissed which was taken under advisement.

Other Court Orders. Other court orders made the last two days:
